

5 REASONS TO TEACH ONLINE

FLEXIBILITY

1

Teaching online for Open SUNY enables you to teach from any place in the world, and connect with a global student body.

DIALOGUE

2

In online discussions, students have more time to formulate responses to questions, which can lead to more thoughtful insight, and commentary.

DIVERSITY

3

Online students come from many walks of life and represent a variety of age groups and dispersed geographic regions.

INNOVATION

4

Teaching online empowers you to explore and experiment with new approaches to teaching through existing and emerging technology.

KNOWLEDGE

5

Teaching an online course can inspire you to explore new learning content, pedagogies, and strategies for sharing your expertise with students.
